

RIMLS PUBLICATION OF THE YEAR

RIMLS awards annually a prize for the best peer-reviewed publication. The publication should relate to a major scientific "breakthrough" that advances our scientific understanding.

Award: 250 Euros

Award date: Online New Year event, 11 January 2022, 16.00 hrs

Application procedure

- Nominations should be sent to rims.info@radboudumc.nl at the latest 24 November 2021.
- Nominations must be accompanied with by this form.

Selection procedure

- A RIMLS jury will decide upon the winning publication based on a short motivation highlighting why the publication is groundbreaking
- Publication based on original experimental data (not a review)
- Publication must be in print in 2021 (i.e. not in-press nor e-pub)
- First author PhD candidate or Postdoc within 4 years after promotion (NWO extension clause apply) PhD candidates is registered in RIMLS PhD program
- RIMLS affiliation is mentioned in article
- Considerations for selection are:
  - Conciseness and clarity of research question(s), results, conclusions and future perspectives of the publication
  - Scientific and/or societal impact of the publication
  - Multidisciplinary and international nature of the publication

RIMLS PUBLICATION OF THE YEAR

Basic details

1a. Details of the applicant

Name	Dept.	Tel.	Email

Title article	Ref. article (J. Clin. Invest. 93:128-146, 2019)

Authors	first author Radboudumc	link to publication in pubmed	PI	Theme*

*Theme:

- Cancer development and immune defence
- Infectious diseases and global health
- Inflammatory diseases
- Metabolic diseases
- Rare cancers
- Reconstructive and regenerative medicine
- Renal disorders
- Tumours of the digestive tract
- Urological cancers
- Vascular damage
- Women's cancers
- Nanomedicine

RIMLS PUBLICATION OF THE YEAR

Motivation (max 250 words)

Motivation may cover:

- Scientific and/or societal impact of the publication
- Multidisciplinary and international nature of the publication

.....

Submission

Date:

Name and signature main applicant:

Name: .....

Signature: .....